This day-long gathering is for all activists, advocates, community members, students and others who are working for Criminal Justice Reform in Utah. The summit will be broken up into three separate workshops along with an accompanying Q&A session and various Action & Information Tables presented by local organizations. Attendees can attend whatever workshop(s) appeal to them while interacting with fellow activists and community members. The following topics will be discussed:

Human Trafficking in Utah (Workshop 1): Led by Journey of Hope of Salt Lake City, this workshop will discuss the landscape of human trafficking in Utah, and the work being done to help those affected. Attendees will also learn about pending human trafficking bills in the state legislature.

The School-to-Prison Pipeline (Workshop 2): Hosted by the Racially Just Utah coalition, this workshop aims to raise awareness about the School-to-Prison pipeline, and what it looks like in our own state. Legislative and local solutions will also be discussed!

Justice Reinvestment (Workshop 3): What's happening with Utah's big reform effort? This segment will be a panel discussion, including Q&A, with state Justice Reinvestment Initiative leaders. We will talk about the current status of JRI, as well as new reforms to take place during the 2016 legislative session.

Indigent Defense: Can we make the system work? This breakout will be hosted by the ACLU of Utah, discussing the problems with Utah's county-by-county public defense system, and how to work for positive reform through advocacy.

THERE WILL BE COMPLIMENTARY BREAKFAST & LUNCH! (Attendees are encouraged, but not required, to make a $5 donation to help cover food expenses)
